About the BAMT Conference 2026

The BAMT Conference attracts a significant number of Music Therapists, as well as researchers, academics, practitioners, and colleagues from other Allied Health Professions and related fields, such as Arts in Health, Music Psychology, Education, Health and Social Care. Our last online conference attracted over 300 delegates and we expect a similar audience this year.

This is a great opportunity to promote your organisation, products, or services to a highly engaged audience through our online conference platform.

Why book a stand?

- Showcase your products and services to delegates.
- Network and develop partnerships with delegates and other organisations.
- Meet and talk with your customers and potential new customers virtually.
- An opportunity to launch a new product or publication.
